

BETWEEN the TWO RIVERS

Catchment Coordinator

Between the Two Rivers Community Catchment Collective has been set up by mana whenua and the wider community between the Ngaruroro and Tutaekurī rivers to tackle challenges together that can't be solved alone.

We are looking for a Catchment Coordinator to work directly with farmers and growers, mana whenua and the wider community to get stuff done.

This is a part-time role, with flexible hours, working from home.

Priorities for you in this role will be to

- Support landowners to design and implement collective projects
- Support the water monitoring programme and ensure that it is relevant to landowners
- Identify future projects that farmer groups and the wider community wish to undertake and how to resource them
- Foster relationships between mana whenua and the wider community

You will also

- Organise workshops, courses and expert-led sessions that meet landowner and community needs
- Get relevant information and news out to and from the community (in newsletters and on social media)
- Feed what you're seeing and hearing in the community into future planning

We are looking for someone who is

- Good at listening and talking to farmers, hapū and other community members
- Self-motivated, well-organised and good at managing your time effectively
- Skilled in planning and getting things done to support landowner-driven projects
- Open-minded to different perspectives and ways of doing things
- Good with Microsoft Word and Excel
- Experienced in organising events such as workshops and courses
- Flexible with hours, and able to work outside normal business hours if required
- Collegial and professional in a small team

Experience working with rural communities and familiarity with the issues facing the primary industry and the B2R area would all be advantages.

You would be engaged as a part-time contractor and will need to provide your own laptop, phone and vehicle. The role starts in April

To apply, email

- a cover note setting out why you want the role, what you can bring to it and when you could start, if successful
- a CV/resume
